June 29, 2018 (Long Beach, Calif.) — The second day of the 2018 Dew Tour Skateboard Competition and Festival presented by Mountain Dew[®] and TEN: The Enthusiast Network was action-packed in the heart of Long Beach, Calif. Today's highlight included 50 of the world's top male skaters battling on the Pro Street and Pro Park Qualifiers for their chance to earn a spot in Sunday's finals.

With 25 pro skaters in the field, only eight made the cut after rounds of heats on the one-of-a-kind park course. Rialto, Calif. native Tristan Rennie (USA) held on to the highest score of the day, an 89.00, and heads into this weekend's finals as the one to beat. Australian Keegan Palmer came in just a point shy of Rennie with an 88.00 and Hawaii native Heimana Reynolds, rounded out the top three with an 87.33.

Another 25 skaters battled it out in the Men's Pro Street Qualifiers. Last year's third place winner Yuto Horigome (JPN) locked in the first position with a 91.00. Brazil's Kelvin Hoefler (BRA) came in just a few points behind with an 88.66, and Chicago native Chaz Ortiz closed out the top three with an 88.33.

The Boost Mobile Switch Jam also went down today with 10 pros doing their best to skate switch, or with the opposite foot they usually lead with, for a chance at cash on hand and a Dew Tour prize purse. Ten skaters collected cash as they landed tricks during the thirty-minute jam on the street course. Carlos Ribeiro (BRA) was awarded the best trick winner of the jam with a switch flip back tail and a Dew Tour trophy to prove it.

Yesterday, 21 amateur men's skaters total took to the park and street courses for a chance at the Dew Tour title and a chance to compete in the Pro qualifying events in their respective fields. Gavin Bottger of Oceanside, Calif., impressively held onto his first run score of an 87.66, which was enough to come in points ahead of the pack to be crowned Dew Tour Am Park champion.

During the three-run Am Street Final, Mountain Dew athlete Chris Colbourn (USA) also held on to his first run score of an 85.33 throughout the event. Colbourn heads back to his home state of Vermont as the Dew Tour Am Street title.

Dew Tour is held outdoors at the Long Beach Convention Center in Long Beach, Calif. through July 1 and is FREE and open to the public. VIP Tickets are available for purchase at DewTour.com. Tomorrow, the much-anticipated first-ever girl's Amateur Skate competition will be held at 10 a.m. PT, followed by the Women's Pro Street Finals at 12:30 p.m. PST and Dew Tour's signature Team Challenge competition at 2:30 p.m. PST.

The entire Dew Tour is streaming live on DewTour.com, which also has exclusive stories and videos from the event. Download the free Dew Tour App, and follow on Instagram, Facebook, Snapchat, Twitter and YouTube @DewTour for live updates throughout the weekend as well.
